

UNAIDS Goodwill Ambassador Her Serene Highness Princess Stephanie, Monaco

Her Serene Highness Princess Stephanie of Monaco, passionate in the fight against AIDS and mother of three, has been President of 'Fight AIDS Monaco' since 2004. The organization has three main focus areas: information, prevention and support to people living with and affected by HIV.

The princess represented Monaco at the High Level Meeting on AIDS in New York in June 2006 where she expressed her personal commitment to the AIDS response. As UNAIDS Goodwill ambassador she focuses on raising awareness on HIV prevention and the negative impact of discrimination against people living with HIV.

Statement by HSH Princess Stephanie of Monaco on World AIDS Day, 1 December 2006

Aujourd'hui 1er décembre, beaucoup de personnes réalisent que le Sida est toujours là. Mais c'est chaque jour qu'il faut lutter contre cette pandémie, prévenir mais surtout soutenir ceux déjà en souffrance.

Today on the 1st of December, many people remember that AIDS is still around. But AIDS needs to be remembered everyday and we must fight this pandemic, through prevention but above all support those who are already suffering.
