

I am a pregnant woman living with HIV. I face these issues.

I live far away from a clinic and have not been tested for HIV

If I take treatment, my husband will know I am HIV-positive

> I am scared that my baby will be born with HIV

I would like family planning advice, but there are no services near me When I take my child to the clinic, the services are poor

My husband will beat me and leave me if he knows I have HIV

I am afraid that my other children also have HIV

Lines are long at the clinic and nobody can care for my children, so I cannot always

My health worker insisted I have an abortion

I just want my baby to be born healthy

If I talk with my child about HIV, I will have to talk about sex and I am not ready

There is no privacy when I visit the clinic; I feel exposed
