DIRECTOR, MANAGEMENT

Evaluation contributes to UNAIDS learning and increasing impact

- Senior leadership commitment to evaluation and mainstreaming learning into the culture of UNAIDS.
- Evaluation needs to be fully funded and proportional to overall funding situation of UNAIDS.
- UNAIDS appreciates the work of the Evaluation Office, the high quality of reports and the support of the Cosponsor Evaluation Group and the Expert Advisory Committee.
- Fully support the review of the UNAIDS Evaluation policy and development of the 2024-2025 Evaluation plan.

UNAIDS follows through and acts on Evaluation reports

Reports received in 2022

Key populations

The Joint Programme is recognized for supporting key population responses.

All recommendations accepted, and detailed plan of action developed.

Sustainable Financing

Joint Programme has made important contributions to improving allocative and technical efficiency of the AIDS response

All recommendations accepted, and detailed plan of action developed.

Mali

Strong alignment of the Joint Programme's strategic directions with national priorities and overarching strategic frameworks.

A theory of change for the Joint Programme's work in Mali was developed as part of the evaluation process.

Lesotho

The Joint Programming platform was good model for the response to AIDS in Lesotho and achieved its purpose of delivering as one..

The evaluation led to the adjustment of country envelop and is informing the development of the new UNSDCF.

Looking forward: agenda for 2023
